MY TOP moments

1. Beating Lakeview in subdistricts in 5 sets after coming back from being down 7-12.
- Carley Foltz

2. Coach told Kim about going left, and she literally had to hold both of her hands up in an "L" shape to see which was left.
- Emily Kosch

3. I ripped my spandex right before a game and had to wear Abbie Perault's for the game.
- Payton Chohon

Senior setter Kristen Ohnoutka and sophomore setter Morgan Thorson set the ball up for senior hitter Payton Chohon. (right) Senior Kylie Rollman spikes the ball for a kill against Omaha Concordia. This was Rollman's first year playing Scotus volleyball after transferring from Lakeview.
After finishing last year’s season strong, the Shamrock volleyball team had a lot to live up to. Along with losing three starters from last year, having to bring in some new sophomores, and senior libero Ali Bos out for most of the season, there were many struggles that had to be conquered.

“Every team has its struggles, whether it was a bad practice or a bad game, we always tried to bounce back and make sure the next day we were a better team than the day before,” sophomore Sarah Schumacher said.

With only losing 3 regular season games, the girls were ready to take on the conference and districts tournaments.

“We were conference champs in a difficult conference tournament and also came out on top after beating Lakeview during districts,” senior Carley Foltz said.

Scotus went on to the state tournament with high hopes for a championship, defeating Syracuse in the first round, but falling to Minden in round two. They battled in the consolation game, but lost to Ogallala in five sets. After placing fourth at state, the Shamrocks ended the season with a record of 26-5.

“I think even though we did not get the place we wanted, we have a lot to be proud of and thankful for; we have great coaches who really care about us and put in a lot of their own time to make us the best we can be,” senior Kristen Ohnoutka said.

Senior middle hitter Payton Chohon was an instrumental part of the volleyball team. This was her third year as a starting player. Chohon also was four kills shy of the record for most kills in a season.